LAMOILLE CO. REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

A Republican County Convention is hereby called at Hyde Park, Vt. on Friday, September 11, 1914, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the offices of State Senator, two Assistant Judges, Judge of Probate, Sheriff, State's Attorney, and High Bailiff, to be voted for Tuesday, November 3, 1914; also for the election of a County Committee at its headquarters, one member from each town in the county, and for the transaction of any other business which may properly come before said convention.

The towns in the county will be entitled to representation as follows:—

Belvidere	3	Johnson	6
Cambridge	6	Morrisville	9
Eden	6	Stowe	6
Elmore	3	Waterville	3
Hyde Park	6	Wolcott	3
Total	54

Delegates must be chosen at Caucuses called by the Republican Committee of each town and should provide themselves with proper credentials duly attested by the secretary of the respective caucus at which they are elected, and present the same to the Republican County Committee (which is constituted the Committee on Credentials) at its headquarters at the Hyde Park Inn immediately on their arrival at Hyde Park.

Any voter who intends to vote and act with the Republican Party at the approaching November election is invited and urged to unite in electing delegates to this Convention.

The Caucuses should be held in each town Thursday, Aug. 27, 1914. Notice of time and place of such Caucuses should be held not later than Aug. 21, 1914.

T. C. CHENEY, Chairman,
G. B. ALLEN, Secretary,
J. O. THOMAS,
A. F. ROGERS,
H. E. HALL,
O. H. WILSON,
C. F. EDDY,
O. G. HORTON,
H. I. RAYMOND,
Republican County Committee.

Arthur F. Stone, long-time editor of the St. Johnsbury Caledonian, will soon assume the editorship of the Springfield Reporter. Springfield is a good town. Stone is a good editor and the union will be a good one. Congratulations to all.

Lieut. Gov. Howe would like to be the next Governor of Vermont, and makes that announcement in a very strong and forceful letter in which he states some of the changes that he would advocate in our State government. He would make a good Governor—but Lamoille County is for Fleetwood.

The death of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at any time would have been a great sorrow, but at this time it is a tremendous blow to the President of the United States, whose hands are full and whose heart is crowded with the cares and responsibilities of a great nation. Sincere sympathy goes out to the President and his family in their great bereavement.

One beneficial effect of the European war is the announcement that the German army is prepared to cremate its dead. The crude way in which this has been done by Mexicans excites horror; but the method, properly employed, is the only way to be used in war. And with the progress of civilization will be generally adopted in times of peace.

The latest entrance in the world war game are Portugal, which sides with England, and little Montenegro, which has arrayed herself against Austria, Italy and Japan are watchfully waiting and are likely at any time to enter the lists. Who can foresee the end of it all? The thought of the cataclysm which portends, staggers the imagination. The ancient world appears to have gone mad.

Orlando L. Martin of Plainfield is mentioned as a Republican candidate for one of the Senatorships from Washington county. Mr. Martin was a strong member in the House of 1908 and has also served well as Commissioner of Agriculture. He is a loyal Vermonter and has always been identified with every interest that pertained to the welfare of the state. Washington county would have a strong man in that body should it send Mr. Martin to the Senate.

The Burlington Free Press suggests Walter J. Bigelow, editor of the St. Johnsbury Caledonian, for Congress from the second district and allows that with Greene and Bigelow as the two members in the House Vermont would have a strong team. Very true, Mr. Bigelow has all the qualifications requisite for the making of an exceptionally good Congressman and to this should be added the fact that he has done yeoman's service for the party. The second district would make no mistake in choosing Mr. Bigelow for this position. Lamoille county would be especially pleased with this choice because Mr. Bigelow is one of her sons, being a native of Stowe.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

After any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness can follow sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proved the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

"In Shining Armor"

For some years Americans have been disposed to reverse their judgment of former days and to consider the Emperor of Germany as one whose great power was being used to preserve international peace.

The imperial attitude last autumn to the incident at Zaberna showed quite conclusively that there had been no real change. In face of the strongest protests of the German people, sanction was given to the military outrage against the people of that town. The punishments were a farce.

The recent action of the Emperor in precipitating a general war is therefore no surprise. His defence, of course, is that some one would have done it if he had not.

"It is impossible but that offences will come; but woe unto him through whom they come!"

Fleetwood's Position

F. G. Fleetwood, Lamoille's candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, was interviewed by a Free Press reporter last week and speaks as follows concerning the candidacy of Percival W. Clement for the same position, and also defines his own position. He says:

"According to precedent, the Republican party of Vermont is to have a millionaire candidate for the governorship. Percival W. Clement, after twice kicking himself free from the traces of that party, whose harness he now seeks to wear, announces that he will seek the Republican nomination at the convention of that party to be held September 9."

"I am a progressive Republican and shall seek the nomination of the Republican party at its forthcoming convention."

"Mr. Clement says in his statement that 'previous to the convention he does not desire to advance' his candidacy by sending emissaries to solicit support."

"I have no desire or intention of so doing and if Mr. Clement as well as other candidates match their methods with this desire the republican convention will be a true deliberative body composed of uninterested delegates, the result of whose action will show in the platform adopted and the candidates nominated, the exact principles, practices and purposes of the Republican party of Vermont."

And all the rulers of Europe, who are responsible for the convulsion which is shaking the earth and which promises to deluge a continent in blood, piously claim an alliance with the Almighty and prayerfully solicit His favor and protection in their present business of wholesale murder.

War would not be entirely an evil, if it called to the front ranks of the battle line the insolent and arrogant emperors, kings, dukes, counts and the numerous train of royal and nobelick-spittles who bask in the divinity which is alleged to hedge about kings. A large mortality upon the field among this class of public dependents in Europe would give much impetus to the propaganda of international peace now moribund.

A Thought for the Day

"Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wrath bestowed on camps and courts
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals or forts."

"The warrior's name would be a name abhorred,
And every nation that should lift again
A hand against its brother, upon its forehead
Would wear forever more the curse of Cain."

—Longfellow.

Has any one heard of Mexico lately?

Savings Banks and Green Calfskins

The Morrisville Messenger pays a very fine tribute to Senator Page, his calfskin business, and the Savings Bank of which he is President. It is worth reproducing and we give it below:—

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."

Nothing truer was ever said.

But—

Advertise right.

Advertise truthfully.

And—

Back up the advertisement with the goods.

That it is no gamble to spend money for advertising, has been conclusively proven right in this county.

Take the case of the Lamoille County Savings Bank and Trust Company.

It is one of the largest advertisers in the county.

It puts out good copy, the kind that is read, and when read carries conviction to the reader.

We do not know who writes these advertisements, but they are newsy, timely, pointed and convincing.

Does it pay?

Look at the record of this bank and you can see that it does pay.

The way its deposits continue to increase, notwithstanding the fact that today most of the other banks are adopting the advertising idea and are finding it pays, just in proportion to the amount they spend and the kind of copy they use.

This bank has won the title of the largest bank in the world in a village the size of Hyde Park. That is something.

Some one dubbed this little county years ago, "Spunky Lamoille" and the name stuck. More, it has been justified and made a term of honor instead of reproach, politically, financially, educationally, etc.

Over twenty-five years ago it was the first county in the country in one branch of the leather business, collecting, curing, sorting and tanning calfskins, and it holds that title even now.

"Good for Spunky Lamoille," we say and perhaps we might add in passing, good for Senator Carroll S. Page, who has developed both the great hide and banking business to such a phenomenal extent that it has placed Lamoille county on the map of the world to stay and made it known all over the land.

No man has been more free than Senator Page to acknowledge his obligation to printer's ink as the foundation of his success, both as a dealer in green calfskins and as a banker. Commencing fifty years ago he determined to put up a better calfskin than any other concern in the world. He used printer's ink liberally to inform the world of his determination and his efforts were apparently crowned with abundant success.

Twenty-five years ago he determined to start a Savings Bank on a new idea, a new method, a new plan; he told the people of that plan, using printer's ink liberally in doing so. Today the progressive methods of the Hyde Park Savings Bank are known and read of all Vermonters.

People having money to deposit always look for the safest place to put their savings and year by year, in constantly increasing numbers, they have come to look favorably upon the Hyde Park Savings Bank until the banking assets of that little village today are more than $3,350,000—unquestionably larger than those of any village of its size on the face of the globe.

The Messenger hits the nail squarely on the head when it says "Advertise right, advertise truthfully, and back up the advertisements with the goods." This is just what Senator Page has done and in so doing has placed Hyde Park on the map of the world, first in the line of Green Calfskins, and second in the line of Savings Banks.

The Hyde Park bank pays the highest rate of interest consistent with absolutely safe banking. Its motto has been and will continue to be "safety first, safety always."

It has never been tempted by high rates of interest to accept doubtful paper; it compounds deposits semi-annually, pays all taxes of every name and kind, and in the more than twenty-five years of its existence, not a dollar sent to that bank either by registered letter, check, or postal or express money order has been lost.

The bank has just passed its 25th anniversary and in commemoration of that event has issued a neat little booklet giving a photograph of the president and directors. Until the supply is exhausted, it will be cheerfully sent to the address of any one who writes therefor and states that he saw this notice in the NEWS AND CITIZEN.
